

Casa Brindisa opens in South Kensington

Brindisa, our favourite Spanish tapas restaurant, is expanding its brand with an exciting new opening in South Kensington. Casa Brindisa is now the third venue since the group's successful start in Borough market. The new restaurant houses the widest range of Brindisa's Spanish cheeses, there's a bar, tapas area, carving counter, and plenty of seating space in view of the open kitchen. You'll find the menu familiar - filled with delicious padrón peppers, prawns in garlic and fantastic cured hams - both on the menu and available to takeaway. A great new place to come dine with friends.